WHAT IS WORSHIP?

Toney L. Smith

Some years ago, a friend of mine was visiting a congregation in the western part of the nation. His observance of the disruptions in worship is something to think about.

He watched as the younger people were allowed to play games as the worship service was going on. Many times, the older ones were the ones who were encouraging the games played by the children. Not only did these people not get anything out of worship, but they disturbed everyone else who was sitting around them.

This just goes to show that many do not know the purpose, nor do they understand what worship is. If they did, they surely would not disturb the worship assembly and would act more reverent in worship.

For us to answer the question, "What is worship?" We must first understand what it is not.

WORSHIP IS NOT:

1. Worship is not a time for fun and games. Children should be trained at an early age to respect worship. They are never too young to be trained.
2. Worship is not a time to manicure our fingernails.
3. Worship is not a time to catch up on our sleep.
4. Worship is not a time to balance our checkbooks.
5. Worship is not a time to allow our children to run wild. Someone could be hurt by someone running into them.
6. Worship is not a time to communicate with those around us (whispering and note passing).
7. Worship is not just a time to give of our means and take the Lord's Supper. It is the time that we do those things, but we also are to sing, pray, and hear the Word of God taught.

WORSHIP IS:

1. A time to praise the living God (Psalms 107:32).

2. A time to remember the love of Christ as He died for us (1 Corinthians 11:24-25).
3. A time of encouragement, uplifting, and exhortation (Hebrews 10:24-25).
4. A time for Christian fellowship (Philippians 2:1-8).
5. A time to focus on bowing before God (Psalms 95:6).
6. A time commanded to be set aside for proper worship (John 4:23-24).
7. A time for things to be done decently and in order (1 Corinthians 14:40).
8. A time to be glad (Psalms 122:1).
9. Additionally, the nursery is not a place to go and shut out the worship service. It is the place set aside for parents to train and take care of their little ones. Even in the nursery there is to be respect for worship.

"BE A LEADER"

Some parents adopt the philosophy of letting their children follow their own heart-felt feelings. Have you ever heard, "I am not going to try to influence my children when it comes to religious matters? I am going to let him make his own decisions?" One might as well reason: "I am not going to try to prejudice my garden in favor of strawberries. I am going to let the soil decide between Bermuda grass and strawberries."

God surely wants us to influence our children in the way of righteousness (Deuteronomy 6:6-7). Notice Proverbs 20:11 "Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right." One commentator said the verse teaches; "Parents should observe their children, that they may manage them accordingly." Parents should work together following God's plan to lead the child to Christ and His righteousness (Proverbs 22:6; Matthew 6:33; Ephesians 6:4). (Adapted)
