FEEDING THE MULTITUDE.

Moses and the people were in the desert, but what was he going to do with them? They had to be fed, and feeding 2 or 3 million people requires a lot of food.

According to the Quartermaster General of the Army, it is calculated that Moses would have needed 1500 tons of food each day to feed the Israelites. To bring that much food each day, two freight trains, each a mile long, would be required.

Besides that, you must remember, they were out in the desert, so they would have to have firewood to use in cooking the food. This would take 4000 tons of wood and a few more freight trains, each a mile long, just for one day. And just think they were forty years in transit.

And oh, yes! They would have to have water. If they only had enough to drink, cook and wash a few dishes, it would take 11,000,000 gallons each day and a freight train with tank cars, 3 miles long, just to bring water!

And then another thing! They had to get across the Red Sea in one night. Now, if they went on a narrow path, double file, the line would be 800 miles long and would require 35 days and nights to get through. (Besides all of the people there were large droves of livestock.) So, there had to be a space in the Red Sea three miles wide so that they could walk 5000 abreast to get over in one night.

But then, there is another problem. Each time the people camped at the end of the day, a campground two-thirds the size of the state of Rhode Island was required, a total area of 750 square miles. This much space was needed for nightly camping!

Do you think Moses figured all this out before he left Egypt? I think not! You see, Moses believed in God, and God took care of these things for him.

Do you still think God has any problem taking care of all your needs?

IF THE LIVING KNEW...

Steve Higgenbotham (Via 39th Street Church of Christ)

Many years ago, I heard a preacher say something in a sermon that I have never forgotten. He said, "If the living knew what the dead know, they would be in a desperate search for truth."

What a profound statement! Those who have already died and passed into eternity know from experience the things living people wonder about. Things like:

1. Is there really a Heaven?
2. Is there really a Hell?
3. Was Jesus who he claimed to be?
4. Will non-religious but morally good people go to Heaven?

The answers to all of these questions are known by every deceased person that has ever lived. And, if the living knew what the dead know, surely, they would be:

1. Buying and reading Bibles
2. Filling church buildings (on Sunday night and Wednesday night, too) in a desperate search of learning what they need to do to be saved and grow spiritually.
3. Trembling at the frailty of life and would not delay in their obedience to the gospel.

What a changed world it would be if the living knew what the dead know. Ironically, we can know what the dead already know, and we don't have to wait for the experience of death. We can open our Bibles and know, just as assuredly as the dead, what awaits us in eternity. PLEASE don't delay in your preparation for eternity.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT!

Proverbs 9:9 "Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning."
